

Innovation in Teaching Grants

A community outreach program of California's table grape growers

August 13, 2018

The California Table Grape Commission (commission) invites educators to apply for Innovation in Teaching education grants funded by California's table grape growers.

In the 2018-19 school year, grants of up to $750 each will be awarded to elementary, junior high, and high school educators (teachers, counselors, resource directors, and librarians) in the table grape growing regions of California (the San Joaquin and Coachella valleys).

Enclosed are applications to distribute to educators in your school; applications are online at www.grapesfromcalifornia.com/community-outreach/grants-and-scholarships/.

Applications are due by Friday, November 16, 2018. The funds must be used and grant activity completed by the end of the 2018-19 school year.

These grants will be awarded for innovative education projects in the areas of math, science, agriculture, California history, art, and health. Examples of previously funded projects include weather forecasting, hands-on engineering, school-based gardens, robotics, and after-school cooking classes.

Applications can be emailed to educationgrants@grapesfromcalifornia.com or mailed to the California Table Grape Commission, 392 W. Fallbrook Avenue, Suite 101, Fresno, CA 93711. The commission will review proposals and notify all applicants of the results in January 2019; checks for the funded proposals will be sent to the schools for implementation.
